Why Adopt a Fish?

Walk through our Marine Life hallway and look up. You'll see our Ocean of Support — a school of fish celebrating the people who help children discover the wonder of the natural world. Each fish represents a gift that opens the door to hands-on science, unforgettable experiences, and lifelong curiosity. Join in by adopting a fish of your own.

How It Works

Choose the fish that feels right, select your giving level, and share the name or message you'd like displayed.

Whether you're honoring someone special, celebrating a milestone, or showing your love for Discovery Space, your dedication will become part of our Ocean of Support for years to come.

Large Fish (19") $1000+

Includes a behind-the-scenes tour and feeding

Medium Fish (12") $500-999

Small Fish (9") $100-499

Because of Supporters Like You

“Discovery Space showed me that you don’t have to wait until college to start doing real science.”

Hayden Kissell

Marine Life Intern, now studying Marine Sciences at the University of Delaware

Discovery Space helped Hayden discover a passion for marine science. Through hands-on experiences and mentorship, she built the skills and confidence that led her to study Marine Sciences at the University of Delaware.

Your support helps more young people discover what's possible when they're encouraged to explore, ask questions, and follow their curiosity.
